

COURSE DESCRIPTION

We provide students with a hands-on experience working with and observing young children ages 3-4. High school student teachers teach basic classes that prepare young children for kindergarten in a learning environment laboratory that is here on the Franklin campus.

Why would you want to take CDL?

If you want to pursue a career in Education or any child-related field; CDL is a great place to start getting that teaching experience. It's also an extraordinary place to show your love for children, even if you don't want a career in teaching!
