Next week is retesting week for EOC tests. Starting Thursday, rosters will be posted in both campus foyers. Please check the lists to see where you need to report on testing days. Testing will be held on the main campus starting at 8:45. You need to report to your testing location instead of your regular classes. This is not for the entire campus but those who have not passed or were absent for an EOC.

Monday is English I; Tuesday is both Biology and US History; Wednesday is English II; And Thursday is Algebra.

Come by the main lobby after school this Thursday for student council’s annual tree decorating contest. Everyone is invited, let’s see who will have the best tree this year. There will be festive music, snacks and drinks. See you after school this Thursday at 4 pm in the main campus lobby!

Would you like to help those in need this holiday season? Every day homeless youth must focus on food, shelter, and safety to survive. Do you wanna help? Your donations of shampoo, soap, toothpaste, socks and basic everyday items will help. Provide these donations now through December 14th to room West-213, Mrs. Knapp’s room at the main campus or to Ms. Robbin Nelson at the magnet office. For a full list of items stop by either drop off location.

PBIS stands for positive behavioral interventions and supports. RAISE is our acronym for behavioral expectations. This week we focus on the letter A. A stands for accepting responsibility. When you accept responsibility you take ownership of your own behavior and the consequences of that behavior. By accepting responsibility, you learn self-respect and respect for others. Cougars RAISE the bar!

Now is the time to review your spring schedule and if you have questions, concerns, or change requests, see your counselor TODAY. Note that teachers and class periods are subject to change at any time. The deadline date to request a course change for the spring semester is December 20. Note that December 20 is also the deadline date to drop a PAP, AP, or OnRamps course for the spring semester. Seniors, the last day to request an out for the spring semester is December 19. Remember, you must be enrolled in a minimum of 3 Pre-AP, AP, Dual Credit, or OnRamps courses, AND STAY ENROLLED IN THEM, to request an out.

THAT’S ALL FOR TODAY, HAVE A marvelous Monday!
